Executive summary

The site has a solid foundation for customers and AI search. The next gains come from adding more specific service, location, FAQ, and trust proof signals.

The fastest wins are usually clarity, trust, crawlability, structured data, and answer-style content - not expensive enterprise theater.

Why this audit matters

Customers are starting to search differently. Instead of only typing keywords into Google, many now ask AI tools direct questions like 'who should I hire?' or 'what company can help me with this?' To show up in those answers, your website needs to make your business easy to understand: clear services, location or audience signals, trust proof, structured content, and obvious next steps.

This audit checks whether your site gives Google and AI tools enough information to confidently understand and recommend your business.

Top fixes to prioritize

1. Add a meta description: Add a one-sentence description of who you help, what you do, and how to contact you.
2. Add one plain-language H1: Use one headline that says exactly what the business is and who it serves.
3. Add local service-area signals: Mention the city, region, or service area in headings, footer copy, and service descriptions.

What Illusion checks

Service clarity, location or audience clarity, trust signals, crawlability, structured data, FAQ answerability, CTA clarity, content depth, and AI crawler access. This PDF does not include Lighthouse or Core Web Vitals testing.

How Illusion helps after the audit

Illusion helps small businesses answer a simple question: when potential customers ask Google or AI tools for recommendations, does your business show up - or do your competitors? The first step is making sure your website clearly explains what you do, who you help, why someone should trust you, and how to contact you.

Once the basic website fixes are live, Illusion can track whether AI answer engines actually mention the business for the questions customers ask.

Detailed Findings

1. Add a meta description

MEDIUM / SEO

Evidence: The homepage has no meta description.

Fix: Add a one-sentence description of who you help, what you do, and how to contact you.

Expected impact: Improves click appeal in search and gives AI summarizers a clean business description.

Effort: low

2. Add one plain-language H1

HIGH / CONTENT

Evidence: The homepage does not have a visible H1 heading.

Fix: Use one headline that says exactly what the business is and who it serves.

Expected impact: Makes the page easier for visitors and answer engines to classify.

Effort: low

3. Add local service-area signals

MEDIUM / LOCAL SEO

Evidence: The crawled pages did not show strong location or service-area language.

Fix: Mention the city, region, or service area in headings, footer copy, and service descriptions.

Expected impact: Local customers and local-intent searches need geographic confidence.

Effort: low

4. Add reviews or testimonials

MEDIUM / USER EXPERIENCE

Evidence: No review/testimonial language was detected.

Fix: Add 2-4 real customer testimonials, review snippets, or links to Google Business reviews.

Expected impact: Trust proof matters for humans and gives AI systems third-party-style evidence to summarize.

Effort: low

5. Add a short FAQ section

MEDIUM / AI SEARCH

Evidence: No FAQ-style content was detected.

Fix: Add answers to common buyer questions: pricing, turnaround time, who you serve, and when to contact you.

Expected impact: Question-answer content maps directly to how people ask ChatGPT, Claude, and Google AI Overviews.

Effort: low

Suggested next step

Fix the top 2-3 issues first, then rerun the audit. The goal is to make the site easier for customers, Google, and AI answer engines to understand before investing in heavier SEO or AI visibility work.
